

Processed Security Certification

n.runs AG has performed a security audit of the Business Keeper AG application "BKMS[®] System" in Berlin in January 2012. The analysis performed was based against the OWASP top 10 vulnerabilities. The result of the audit was that none of these vulnerabilities were found in the audited application.

In addition we attest that Business Keeper AG, with the certification "Processed Security", for the time period 2009 to 2012 has implemented a program of sustainable security for this application.

The reason for this attestation is a contractual obligation to perform regular security audits for the stated timeframe. The current certificate can be found and viewed under
