BKMS® System

Whistleblowing and Compliance

Via Internet

Using the BKMS® System, an internet-based communication platform, whistleblowers can report irregularities, abuses and risks worldwide on a 24/7 basis. The whistleblower decides whether he wishes to remain anonymous, in order to protect himself from possible negative personal consequences, or whether he wishes to reveal his identity. The system is available in every desired language and is customized to client-specific needs.

In Dialogue

A special feature of the certified BKMS® System is the guaranteed anonymous dialogue between whistleblower and examiner. In this dialogue the whistleblower is encouraged to make reports and is kept informed on the report's status. The whistleblower's availability for further questions can help accelerate internal investigations and prevent misunderstandings.

With Security

The BKMS® servers are located in a high security data centre. Both the content and the channel of every report are secured using certified encryption procedures. This guarantees that only authorized examiners can access reports and that critical topics are handled according to the client's ethical standards and guidelines.

Without Compromises

We help to uphold both business and social ethical standards. Our clients are international companies who belong to the DAX 30 and SMEs, as well as public institutions in various countries.
